

Late Model Stock Cars Compete Sunday Night

Racing fans will get an extra treat over the July 4 holiday weekend when the NAS-CAR Pacific Coast Late Model Stock Cars invade Ascot Park in Gardena Sunday night for a 100-lap double-header program for the ARA Figure 8 stockers.

Stock car racing on the West Coast has gained more prominence the last few years since Les Richter, the ex-Ram linebacker, has begun spearheading the NAS-CAR events at Riverside International Raceway, Hanford Speedway and Ascot Park.

Ascot Park is the only track outside of Riverside where racing enthusiasts can see the new 1966 cars compete and top drivers vie for top prize money ($3,500) and Pacific Coast championship points.

Sunday night's action will see the "high-rise" Fords and the "Hemi" powered Chrysler products battling again for supremacy of the stock car racing circuit.

Those "pistol-toting" feuds that are usually found down South, like those of the Hatfields and McCoy's, just don't materialize under the quiet Southern California sun and stars.

Cycle Race

Ralph White of Torrance beat Sammy Tanner in the 15-lap main event motorcycle race Friday at Ascot Park.

White took the lead on the ninth lap.

Card Tells Of Safety In Boating

The state Division of Small Craft Harbors has announced its publication of a handy, quick-reference card for boaters showing pilot rules, signals and markers used on California waterways.

Division Chief Lachlan M. Richards said the waterproof 5 x 7 inch cards are being mailed without charge as a contribution to boating safety education during National Safe Boating Week.

The quick-reference card contains the rules for boat sound signals and illustrates the passing and overtaking situations in which they should be used. It also has color illustrations of the principal Coast Guard channel markers, the state waterway marker system and the U.S.

Weather Bureau storm signals.

UPSIDE DOWN... Goes Paul Jones after flipping his car during CRA Sprint Car competition at Ascot Park. Jones will return from a midwest tour Monday night for a July 4 outing at Gardena. A fireworks show and destruction derby will also be featured.

Paul Jones on July 4 Card at Ascot

Point leaders Don Thomas of El Cajon, Frank Secrist of Bakersfield, and Paul Jones of Torrance will take their battle for the 1966 California Racing Assn. driving title to Ascot Park in Gardena, when they meet in an eight-event sprint car racing program on Monday night, July 4, in a tripleheader program. Racing starts at 8:15 p.m.

Thomas holds a 38½-point lead over Secrist going into this Monday night's 50-lap main event. Thomas has two CRA feature wins this year. Thomas has 386½ points to Secrist's 347, with Jones third with 324 points and two main event wins. Thomas and Secrist will be driving Chevrolet V8 powered cars, while Jones wheels an Offenhauser powered car. It will be the first Southern California appearance for Jones since he finished second last Sunday afternoon in the USAC sprint car races at New Bremen, Ohio. He'll drive the same Bruce Bromme, Offie from Gardena, in which he flipped twice in his last Ascot outing.
